

When I Google myself, I get this infobox:

George Francis Hotz, alias geohot, is an American security hacker, entrepreneur, and software engineer. He is known for developing iOS jailbreaks, reverse engineering the PlayStation 3, and for the subsequent lawsuit brought against him by Sony. Wikipedia

Born: 1989 (age 34 years), Glen Rock, NJ

Education: Center for Talented Youth, Rochester Institute of Technology, Bergen County Academies

Parents: Marie Minichiello, George Hotz, Sr.

Height: 5' 4" Fake

Notable work: Jailbreak, comma.ai, tinygrad

Other names: geohot, tomcr00se

As you can see below, George Hotz's height is 5'10", not 5'4"

Google, please take this misinformation seriously before you end up in a very large libel suit. This is not on a site you are linking to, this is first party misinformation from Google, and I know from COVID that you take misinformation very seriously.

I'm expecting a full retraction and a handwritten apology note from Sundar. I will settle for a retraction and being Google Pay'd \$3.50, but only if you handle this issue promptly.
